NSK + DCI

Two Brands, Same Values

40 Years of Dental Manufacturing

We believe in managing every aspect of the business around one simple goal: making our customer's life easier.

It all began in 1983 when John Spencer and his wife Janelle built upon their own experience in the dental industry and founded DCI, a dental parts manufacturer that would quickly grow to be the largest in the world. Later joined by two of their children, the Spencers went on to expand the company even further by starting DCI Edge, the dental equipment manufacturing brand of DCI.

Our passion is designing and building the best dental equipment in the industry. Our promise is to manufacture with an unwavering focus on reliability, quality, and optimal value. This focus has made DCI Edge the fastest growing dental equipment brand in North America.
